

ALISON MEDINA

Alison Medina grew up in New Jersey where she studied ballet all through her childhood. Alison is a County College of Morris Alumni with a degree in Dance and Fine Arts. She studied ballet, modern, jazz, contemporary, and choreographic studies. Upon graduating Alison worked at a local dance studio as an Assistant Studio Director, Competition Team Manager, and Lead Choreographer. She worked in dance studios all over the North Jersey area teaching, choreographing, and managing. Alison moved to Los Angeles in 2021 to take classes in the LA area and teach in a new city. She has a great passion for teaching dance to the younger generations and is excited to be a part of LDC.
